

Exquisite Cocina

Remodeled by USI Remodeling, Grand Prairie

BY STAFF

Formerly a 1970s-style galley kitchen, the remodel of this space included the removal of a wall, opening the kitchen to the dining room. The new kitchen's design reflects the home's exterior, which features exposed cedar beams and a tile roof. A custom-constructed island hood, accented Saltillo tile flooring, custom knotty alder cabinets and a Talavera tile backsplash highlight the renovated kitchen—dubbed “MexiCocina” by the USI Remodeling staff, who claim that “the margaritas are smoother and the guacamole is tastier” in this new space.

Photography by Ken Vaughan

For more information and resources about this project, go to www.homeimprovementmag.com